About Hakodate

Location

Hakodate is located at 41°46' north latitude, in the southern part of Hokkaido, a large island in northern Japan.

Climate

In 2023, the average temperature in Hakodate was around 11°C. In January and February, temperatures range between approximately -7°C and 2°C. The first snow of the season typically falls in November, and snow remains on the ground until the end of March. July and August have an average temperature of about 25°C with low humidity, making the summers comfortable.

History

Archaeological sites in Hakodate show that people were living in this region about 13,000 years ago. In modern times, Hakodate became one of Japan's first international trading ports, which led to the rapid adoption of Western culture.

Population

Hakodate has a population of about 240,000, making it the third-largest city in Hokkaido, after Sapporo (1.96 million) and Asahikawa (320,000). Hakodate was the largest city in Hokkaido until 1935, 80 years after its port opened to foreign trade.

Recognition

Hakodate has been named one of Japan's most attractive cities six times in regional image surveys. The Japanese travel guidebook Michelin Green Guide Japan features more than 30 tourist spots in Hakodate.

Local Food and Drinks

A single trip is never enough to savor all of Hakodate's culinary delights! Must-tries include fresh seafood, hearty local hamburgers, carefully crafted drinks, and delectable sweets.

Highlights!

Hot-Tubbing Monkeys, a Winter Feature in Hakodate

Hakodate Tropical Botanical Garden, located in the Yunokawa Onsen Area, is home to about 50 Japanese macaques, also known as snow monkeys. While you can see these monkeys year-round, they particularly captivate tourists during the cold months, when they soak in the hot springs here. From December 1 to early May, the monkeys warm themselves in the steamy Saruyama Onsen.
